Art Unit: 1745

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 166-169, 172-174 and 177-180 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claims contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. (New Rejection)

Applicant has claimed a membrane in all the above claims but has failed to describe how to make the claimed membrane including a plurality of single-walled carbon nanotubes in a substantially parallel relationship. Page 35 of the present specification sets forth single-walled nanotubes held in a two-dimensional array by van der Waals forces, but such configuration is not a membrane as per applicant's definition-see applicant's May 27, 2004 response.

As a matter of fact, the only reference to a membrane in the present specification is on page 48, lines 3-7. However, no description is set forth as to how to make such membranes. Clarification is required without the addition of new matter to the present specification.

With specific regard to claims 177-180, it is not understood how a membrane could be present in a battery within applicant's current definition of a membrane. As per applicant's definition, the membrane is permeable to substances in solution. Applicant's example to the single-walled carbon nanotubes that are substantially parallel in a battery is described on pages 52-56 and depicted in Figure 14, however such anode is not a membrane under this definition.

Art Unit: 1745

Further reference is made to Figure 4 of the present specification where the carbon nanotubes are used in a battery. Such structure is certainly not a membrane. Clarification is required.

3. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the membrane comprising the single-walled carbon nanotubes that are in a substantially parallel relationship must be shown or the features canceled from the claims. No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to John S. Maples whose telephone number is 571-272-1287. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday from 6:15-3:45.
